

Minding Your Long-Term Health Condition During Coronavirus (COVID-19)

Asthma & COPD

Diabetes

Heart Disease

Stroke

People with long-term health conditions may be more at risk of serious illness if they get coronavirus. You need to take extra care to protect yourself from coronavirus.

During this time of uncertainty, our daily lives have changed a lot. If you have a long-term health condition you still have to do the things that help you stay well.

- Set a daily routine. Get up, get dressed and get moving.
- Continue to monitor your condition.
- If your condition worsens call your GP or hospital to get the advice you need.

This guide is to help you self-manage your long-term health condition during this time.

Some people who have a long-term health condition need to cocoon. Cocooning means you should stay at home at all times and avoid face-to-face contact. People who are cocooning should minimise contact even within their own home. People who need to cocoon include people over 70 and people with severe asthma or severe COPD. For more information check www2.hse.ie/conditions/coronavirus/cocooning.html You can also talk to your GP or call HSE Live: 1850 24 1850

Plan a daily routine which includes your checks. Responding to changes quickly helps keep your long-term health condition under control. Follow your care-plan if you have one.

If your condition worsens contact your GP or hospital immediately to get the advice you need. National help lines can also provide support and advice.

Make a list of your medicines. This is important information to give to health workers if you become sick. Ask your pharmacist for a copy of your medications or you can get a medication list on www.safermeds.ie which you can complete or ask someone to help you.

Many pharmacies offer a delivery service. Or you can ask someone you trust or phone your Community Call helpline if you need help to collect your medication.

MIND YOUR MENTAL HEALTH

Being stressed about COVID-19 is normal and not unexpected. Stress and worry can make your underlying condition worse. There are things you can do to help you get through this time. Plan your day, include some nice activities, eat healthy foods that you enjoy and keep active.

Make a daily routine which includes chatting with someone at least once a day. If you need advice talk with people you respect and trust such as your family, friends or your healthcare team.
